Thank you. Sometimes there are modules that exist on phpnuke that we don't have a XOOPS equivalent. Even a poor version is sometimes better than none yes, is true... and at least can be a "start point" for a real php developer. Now im working only with LUA language, about 3 years without code in php.

im searching for this script, but I cant access the XOOPS partition from longhorn, problems with the windows file protection. I will try crack it or rewrite de code, and I will write 'the news' here still today.

Ah! you are a dev?

obs: XOOPS Brasil is offline because my conexion is ok to receive, but is poor to send files to server. And: the wikipedia was coverted to wiwimod, and only this have more than 100MB. So.... patience.
