

Subject: XOOPS.org Members Lounge

Topic: xoops-end-user.com Hacked by Anonymous xoops-end-user.com Hacked by Anonymous

Posted by: amudee

Posted on: : 1187604003

URL:

Ok now a serious thread regarding small small mistakes we do while setting up big XOOPS websites. I recently edited/hacked <http://www.xoops.net.br/index.php> and the reason for this editing/hacking is nothing but to let the owner know how venerable his site may be. If any anonymous is allowed to edit your sites content why would he be so honest ?

The main thing is why do we have Anonymous listed under the groups ? and why do we have such venerable options in XOOPS that gives rights to anonymous group members ? this is a serious venerability. Any beginner can make such mistakes, giving all the rights to anonymous users, i think this functionality needs to be improved a little.

Thanks & Regards,
codergeek82