My upgrade from 2.0.9 to 2.2 went well for the most part. Debug shows no more errors and all my modules are working fine. I decided to go with the theme www.xoops.net.br-02. I enjoy the features of this theme, however, I have made a top banner of my own and want to get rid of the XOOPS one. I tried altering the theme but get a blank box in the upper right hand corner in the banner area that is a clickable link back to my home page. I did set the templates to update etc. but the box does not go away. How can I alter it to get rid of this header/banner link?

Also is it safe to take the language pack out of a module and insert an english language pack? I have gotten a lot of request by users for the horrorscope module, but it's not in english.

Before I put the new website online to replace an older one I want to make sure everything is running as perfect as I can.

Thanks everyone for your help.
