From an End User point of view I have had experience with both systems. By end user here I mean the one who browses the web and decides to stop and stay a spell. XOOPS is much more enjoyable.

Stop by and visit some of the XOOPS sites listed by the community.

or check or add to the current events.

We would love to have you as an active member of the XOOPS community, but if you decide on another, you are still welcome here.
