URL:

- 1) Go to the index.php page [http:// your site dot whatever / index.php](http://your site dot whatever / index.php)
- 2) Do a save file as - from the browser file menu selecting Web page complete as type
- 3) name the file whatever you want when you upload it online. (because the save file as, whole webpage will save your images in a folder by the same name_files)
- 4) you now have the template ... upload the file and the folder to your desired place. Then adjust as you wish.

I do that with my index.html a lot of the times.

Example: <http://xoops-end-user.com/index.html>

Same as <http://www.xoops.net.br/index.php>
